General comments

We appreciate the opportunity to comment on the above captioned exposure draft and believe that it serves the goals and objectives of the Private Company Council (PCC), to provide accounting alternatives when warranted and by permitting private companies to adopt such alternatives when relevant to their operations and not just during the initial adoption period.

While we believe that persuasive arguments can be made to support preferability of a change in accounting principle subsequent to the implementation dates for ASU 2014-02 and 2014-03, the proposed changes will eliminate the burden on financial statement preparers and auditors to develop and support such arguments. We are also supportive of providing an unconditional one-time election to adopt ASU 2014-02 and 2014-03 and removal of the effective dates from the Accounting Standards Codification (ASC), thereby eliminating the cost of retrospective application upon adoption. We encourage the PCC and Financial Accounting Standards Board to consider inclusion of similar relief in future PCC ASUs where appropriate.
