Chapter Representative
Bernadette Schopfer
From Chapter President Gina Goodenow…

Dear Fellow Westchester Chapter Members,

September is here! I can’t believe that summer is over and school is starting back. We have been busy planning many great fall events for you. In addition to our normal committee meetings we have two annual full day tax conferences coming up on November 6 and December 4. These sell out so register early!

Need ethics credit? Our annual ethics event will be held on November 7. Missing summer already? Register early for our annual golf event. This year it will be held at the beautiful Wykagyl Country Club on August 13, 2018.

Join us at the Annual College Planning Night on September 19 at Westchester Community College at 7:30pm for great financial aid and college application tips.

Speaking of summer, did you know that many kids don’t get as much to eat during the summer when school is not in session? I had the privilege of volunteering with the Next Gen Committee at the Westchester Food Bank in July. We also got a tour of the facility and learned about all the great work they do and the people they serve. I was surprised to hear that the majority of recipients of the food are considered ‘working poor’ rather than unemployed. I hope to continue our involvement with charitable initiatives and incorporate some aspect into each event for a local charity.

If you have any ideas, please contact me.

I look forward to a great fall and hope to see you at one of our events!

Sincerely,

Gina Goodenow

Gina Goodenow can be reached by phone at (212) 251-4042 or by e-mail at GinaGoodenow@gmail.com
IRS’s Stakeholder Liaison:
partnering with organizations serving tax professionals, small businesses and self-employed taxpayers

IRS’s Stakeholder Liaison organization is unique among its peers. While other IRS functions are collecting taxes or examining returns, Stakeholder Liaison gives away its goods, providing tax professionals and the small business community the latest tax information and resources the IRS has to offer – and at a price that can’t be beat: for free.

Reach out and teach – Local stakeholder liaisons collaborate with tax professional organizations, small business groups and industry associations to provide tax education and information for their members. Stakeholder liaisons also participate in tax-related events throughout the country, including the annual Nationwide Tax Forums for tax professionals.

Local stakeholder liaisons conduct small business forums, opportunities for government agencies and small business organizations to exchange ideas and discuss current and emerging issues. Stakeholder liaisons also host practitioner liaison meetings with representative groups of local tax professionals. These events open up dialogue between the IRS and the tax professional and small business communities.

Stakeholder Liaison delivers educational initiatives indirectly by supporting and assisting organizations that deliver Small Business Tax Workshops. Stakeholder Liaison also coordinates free, large-capacity webinars via the Internet that deliver comprehensive information on pertinent tax topics in a personal way. Search IRS.gov: tax workshops for more information on SBTW and webinars for more information about webinars.

Resolve the issue – IRS’s Practitioner Priority Service (866-860-4259) is the tax professional’s first stop for tax account-related issues, but if you encounter an issue with an IRS program or policy, raise it with your local stakeholder liaison. If the issue is significant nationally, the liaison may put it into the Issue Management Resolution System, which IRS uses to capture, report on and respond to issues that practitioners and small business leaders bring to the agency’s attention. The IMRS page on IRS.gov contains a monthly summary of new and resolved issues, the IMRS Hot Issues report and the Industry Issues Quarterly report, as well as a link to your local Stakeholder Liaison contacts. Search: IMRS.

Read all about it – The IRS issues news briefs via two electronic newsletters written specifically for tax professionals and small businesses. E-News for Tax Professionals links to IRS news and information for tax pros and often addresses topics submitted by practitioners via their local stakeholder liaisons. E-News for Small Businesses is tailored for small business owners and self-employed individuals. Visit IRS.gov and search: subscription to subscribe to these and other IRS newsletters.

Senior Stakeholder Liaison Linda Henson is the relationship manager assigned to the NYSSCPA - Westchester Chapter. Linda has a wealth of experience and knowledge of IRS processes, programs and procedures and can assist our members navigate the IRS system. You can reach Linda at Linda.Henson@irs.gov or (718) 834-3520 – Monday thru Thursday 7:00 am – 5:30 pm.
