Entry into 14 Wall St. – 19th Fl.

The 14 Wall Street building is typical of most large Class A Manhattan office buildings and maintains security procedures that require guests to sign in before entry to floors.

Our expectation is that all committee members will be registered with the lobby desk in advance of committee meetings. You will be asked for photo ID the first time you visit the building and will be given a temporary building pass. For future visits to the building, you should only have to give your name to the security desk.

We are in the process of working out details with building management to accommodate the many members who visit and utilize the society headquarters. As we finalize security and building entry details, we will advise the membership.
